

The Eiffel Tower is delighted to host a unique auction:
the skeleton of a new type of carnivorous dinosaur!

Organised by Agutttes auction house, the prestigious sale will take place on Monday 4th June 2018 at 6pm in the Gustave Eiffel Room, on the first floor of the monument.

AGUTTTE

An iconic monument for an exceptional event. The Gustave Eiffel Room, located on the first floor of the Eiffel Tower, will host an unprecedented event on Monday 4th June at 6pm: the auction of the skeleton of an unclassified theropod.

The skeleton, which measures 9 metres in length and is 70% complete, was discovered during a 2013 excavation at the Morrison Formation in the USA, one of the world's most fertile sources of dinosaur fossils.

For this event, the skeleton has been scientifically assembled on a stainless steel structure whose design was inspired by the Eiffel Tower itself.

Eiffel Tower visitors will be able to see this spectacular specimen at close quarters.

During the three days prior to the sale, visitors to the monument will be able to see this spectacular specimen up close between the following times:

- Saturday 2nd June, 2:30pm to 10:00pm
- Sunday 3rd June, 10:00am to 8:00pm
- Monday 4th June, 9:30am to 2:00pm.
